EXPLANATION.

THE following communication from the secretary of the General Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen of the City of New York will explain the origin of the present catalogue :—

"Extract from the inaugural address of President Barratt [January, 1891]" :—

'I have also some suggestions to make in regard to the library. It is : That the books from J. Morgan Slade's library, now in the members' reading room, be transferred to a separate alcove in the library, and that all reference books on architecture now in the library, and any others hereafter obtained, be added to it, and that it be named the J. Morgan Slade Architectural Library, to be used for reference only.'

"Extract from a report of the School Committee, March, 1891 :—

'It was unanimously recommended to remove the J. Morgan Slade Architectural Library to the library room, and that all reference books on architecture now in the library, and all others hereafter obtained, be added thereto, and known as the J. Morgan Slade Architectural Reference Library, to be used for reference only, and under such rules and regulations as may be devised and adopted to govern the use of the same by the Library Committee.'

"On motion, the recommendation of the [School] Committee was adopted by the Society."

In accordance with the wishes of the Society a handsome bookcase has been erected, immediately opposite the entrance to the public reading room, in which is placed the original bequest from Mr. J. Morgan Slade's library, numbering 184 volumes, embracing, with a few exceptions, works on architecture and allied topics. In the present catalogue these books have this mark ‡ prefixed to their titles. The bookcase contains also all the books in the reference department of a strictly architectural character (embracing in the scheme of classification under which the libraries of the Society are arranged, classes G 8 and G 9), which have this mark † prefixed to their titles.

The catalogue contains, besides the books placed in the J. Morgan Slade Library bookcase, all books both in the Reference as well as in the Circulating department of the Apprentices' Library that have any bearing, however remote, on Architecture or Building ; so that the present list may be considered as a complete guide to all the works on, or illustrative of, these subjects contained in the library up to October 15, 1892.

The work is divided into two parts : Part 1 containing an arrangement of the books under forty-two classes, which follow each other in alphabetical order, as may be seen by the synopsis on page 1. An alphabetical list of all the special topics contained in these classes is prefixed to Part 1, which will guide the user to the class or classes where books on any given topic may be found. Part 2 contains the same books arranged alphabetically by authors and titles. In case a given book cannot be found by means of the class under which it has been catalogued, the author's name, or the first word of its title where no author is given, will be easily found in its alphabetical position in this part, and will give all the information required.

Both parts of the catalogue contain the authors' surnames, followed by their initials in Part 1, and by their full Christian names (where they could be ascertained) in Part 2, titles such as Sir, Captain, Jr., being printed in italics ; so much of the title as was necessary to distinguish the book from every other in the library and to indicate (as far as a title is capable of indicating) the nature of its contents ; the edition ; the number of volumes in each work ; the place and date of publication ; the size ; and the class number under which it may be found on the shelves.

The titles, in so far as they have been copied, are in the exact words of the title-pages. In the few cases where it has been found necessary to add a word or two for the sake of clearness, the word or words so added will be found enclosed in brackets [ ]. Information added by the compiler after the title will be found in italics. This information is generally abbreviated and needs explanation : thus [cop. 1891] and [pref. 1891] mean that the year of publication is not on the title-page, but that the first book was copyrighted in 1891, and the other has its preface dated in the same year. Where there is no title-page the initials n. t. p. = no title-page, or t. p. w. = title-page wanting, are used. v. p. means that various places of publication (more than two) are mentioned, and n. d. means that no date of publication is given.

Where there are more than two authors of a work only the first named is taken as a heading, and the others are indicated by the words, "and others," in italics.

The size designations, 12°, 8°, 4°, etc., have no reference to the folding of the paper, but are meant to show, in an approximate way, the actual size of the book. Thus all books measuring from seven to eight inches in height are called 12°; from eight to ten inches, 8°; from ten to fourteen inches, 4°; and above fourteen inches, Folio.

A single dash indicates the absence of a preceding heading, a second dash shows the absence of a subsequent heading.

Other abbreviations used besides those explained are: "ed." = edition or edited; "edr."= editor; "enl." = enlarged; "rev." = revised; "transl." = translated or translator; "vol." = volume; "vols." = volumes. The abbreviations for names of places, such as N. Y. for New York, Lond. for London, etc., are so well known that it is presumed that the reader is familiar enough with them to need no further explanation.

All books without a special sign preceding their titles can be taken out of the library for home use by readers having accounts. Books designated thus * can also be taken for home use by readers having a Demilt account in addition to their account in the Apprentices' Library. The by-laws explain the conditions to be observed in opening such an account. Books designated thus †, or thus ‡, are for reference only, and can be consulted only by making application to the custodian of the reading room.

SUPPLEMENT No. 1

TO THE

FINDING LIST

OF THE

APPRENTICES' LIBRARY

ESTABLISHED AND MAINTAINED BY

THE GENERAL SOCIETY OF MECHANICS AND TRADESMEN

OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Containing a List of Books added from January to December, 1888

NEW YORK
PRESS OF J. J. LITTLE & CO.
1889

EXPLANATION.

THE following list contains a condensed but complete catalogue of all the new books added to the Apprentices' Library during the year 1888.

The arrangement of the divisions and sub-divisions is strictly alphabetical, but for convenience of instant reference an alphabetical index of subjects is prefixed which will direct the reader to the exact page where any topic may be found.

Books are generally entered in alphabetical order in each section under what is presumed to be the author's real name (printed in SMALL CAPS), except where the assumed name was better known and more likely to be looked for by the majority of users of a catalogue. In some cases the assumed name follows the real name (in parentheses). When the assumed name is taken as a heading, the real name, when known, follows [in brackets]. When a work has no author, the first word of the title (not an article or proportion), is taken as a heading.

In making out orders from this catalogue the reader should give the author's name, the first part of the title, the number, and volume (if there is more than one). The number always consists of a class letter, followed by not more than four figures, and sometimes by a title-letter (in italics). All the various parts of a number must be copied as each is equally important.

The numbering scheme is so arranged as to show the size of the book. Thus, if the last three figures are below 500 the work is a 12°; between 500 and 800 indicates an 8°; from 800 to 900 is used for 4°s; and from 900 to 999 is reserved for folios.

If a work is bound with or forms part of another, this fact must be stated on the order list.

A single dash indicates the absence of a preceding heading; a second dash shows the absence of a subsequent heading.

"F. S. L." means Franklin Square Library; "v." means volume or volumes; "transl." means translated or translator; "ed." means edited or edition; "edr." means editor; and "pt." means part.

A † preceding a title means that the book is for reference only, and cannot be taken from the library.

A full list of catalogues for sale will be found on the last page of the cover.

IMPORTANT

TO READERS OF THE APPRENTICES' LIBRARY.

Readers will promote their own convenience and facilitate the work of the Library by purchasing a catalogue, which will enable them, at their leisure, to make lists of such books as they may desire. By having a catalogue at home they will be better able to make an intelligent selection, as they will have an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the resources of the Library on any subject. The catalogue is brought down to date, and contains not only the books in the Apprentices' Library, but includes, as well, the whole of the valuable reference department, and also the Demilt Circulating Department, comprising, altogether, over 75,000 volumes. It is arranged on a plan that is within the comprehension of the most inexperienced reader, and has been pronounced by experts to be the best work of its kind ever published. There are numerous references intended to aid the reader in his studies, and there is prefixed an index containing over 4,000 heads, which will enable any one to turn to any subject desired, where will be found, in one place, all the works (and in many cases the parts of works) the Library has on any given topic. The catalogue can be obtained either complete or in parts, as the reader may elect.

The complete catalogue is in one octavo volume, strongly bound in cloth, price, $1.00.

The separate parts, each of which has its own index of subjects, are for sale at the following prices:

Part 1.	Biography, Memoirs, and Letters,	Price,	10 cents.
" 2.	Cyclopædias, Collected Works, Periodicals, and Juvenile Literature,	"	10 "
" 3.	Fiction (including Juvenile Fiction),	"	25 "
" 4.	History, Geography, Voyages and Travels,	"	15 "
" 5.	Literature and Language,	"	15 "
" 6.	Natural Science, Mathematics, and Medical Science,	"	10 "
" 7.	Political and Social Sciences,	"	10 "
" 8.	Theology and Philosophy,	"	15 "
" 9.	Useful and Fine Arts,	"	10 "

Selections from the above lists have been published by the Library in a series entitled, "Classified Lists of the Most Popular Works," in 10 parts, which follow, pretty closely, the same general scheme of classification as the catalogue. Each list contains about 400 selected books. Parts 5 to 9 embrace the same topics as parts 5 to 9 of the catalogue. The other parts are as follows:

Part 1. American History, Voyages and Travels, Biography and Politics.
" 2. Asiatic, African, and Oceanic History, Voyages and Travels, and Biography.
" 3. European History, Voyages and Travels, Biography and Politics.
" 4. General History, Voyages and Travels, and Biography.
" 10. Fiction (including Juvenile Fiction).

For sale at the desk, price, 2 cents each.

SUPPLEMENT No. 2

TO THE

FINDING LIST

OF THE

APPRENTICES' LIBRARY

OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Containing a List of Books added from January to August, 1889

NEW YORK
PRESS OF J. J. LITTLE & CO.
1889

EXPLANATION.

THE following list contains a condensed but complete catalogue of all the new books added to the Apprentices' Library from January to August 1889, inclusive.

The arrangement of the divisions and sub-divisions is strictly alphabetical, but for convenience of instant reference an alphabetical index of subjects, including the names of individuals in biography, is prefixed, which will direct the reader to the exact page where any topic may be found.

Books are generally entered in alphabetical order in each section under what is presumed to be the author's real name (printed in SMALL CAPS), except where the assumed name is better known and more likely to be looked for by the majority of the users of a catalogue. In some cases the assumed name follows the real name (in parentheses). When the assumed name is taken as a heading the real name, when known, follows [in brackets]. When a work has no author the first word of the title (not an article or preposition), is taken as a heading. In Individual Biography (page 1) books are entered in the alphabetical order of the lives treated of, instead of by authors' names, so that all the lives of the same individual will be found in one place.

In making out orders from this catalogue the reader should give the author's name, the first part of the title, the number, and volume (if there is more than one). The number always consists of a class letter, followed by not more than four figures, and sometimes by a title-letter (in italics). All the various parts of a number must be copied, as each is equally important.

The numbering scheme is so arranged as to show the size of the book. Thus, if the last three figures are below 500 the work is a 12°; between 500 and 800 indicates an 8°; from 800 to 900 is used for 4°s; and from 900 to 999 is reserved for folios.

If a work is bound with or forms part of another, this fact must be stated on the order list.

A single dash indicates the absence of a preceding heading; a second dash shows the absence of a subsequent heading.

"F. S. L." means Franklin Square Library; "v." means volume or volumes; "transl." means translated or translator; "ed." means edited or edition; "edr." means editor; and "pt." means part.

A † preceding a title means that the book is for reference only, and cannot be taken from the Library.

A full list of catalogues for sale will be found on the last page of the cover.

IMPORTANT

TO READERS OF THE APPRENTICES' LIBRARY.

Readers will promote their own convenience and facilitate the work of the Library by purchasing a catalogue, which will enable them, at their leisure, to make lists of such books as they may desire. By having a catalogue at home they will be better able to make an intelligent selection, as they will have an opportunity of familiarizing themselves with the resources of the Library on any subject. The catalogue is brought down to date, and contains not only the books in the Apprentices' Library, but includes, as well, the whole of the valuable reference department, and also the Demilt Circulating Department, comprising, altogether, over 80,000 volumes. It is arranged on a plan that is within the comprehension of the most inexperienced reader, and has been pronounced by experts to be the best work of its kind ever published. There are numerous references intended to aid the reader in his studies, and there is prefixed an index containing over 4,000 heads, which will enable any one to turn to any subject desired, where will be found, in one place, all the works (and in many cases the parts of works) the Library has on any given topic. The catalogue can be obtained either complete or in parts, as the reader may elect.

The complete catalogue is in one octavo volume, including supplements Nos. 1 and 2, strongly bound in cloth, price, $1.00.

The separate parts, each of which has its own index of subjects, are for sale at the following prices:

Part 1.	Biography, Memoirs, and Letters,	Price, 10 cents.
" 2.	Cyclopædias, Collected Works, Periodicals, and Juvenile Literature,	" 10 "
" 3.	Fiction (including Juvenile Fiction),	" 25 "

Supplement No. 2.	Containing the additions from January to August, 1889,	" 10 "

Selections from the above lists have been published by the Library in a series entitled, "Classified Lists of the Most Popular Works," in 10 parts, which follow, pretty closely, the same general scheme of classification as the catalogue. Each list contains about 400 selected books. Parts 5 to 9 embrace the same topics as parts 5 to 9 of the catalogue. The other parts are as follows:

Part 1. American History, Voyages and Travels, Biography, and Politics.
" 2. Asiatic, African, and Oceanic History, Voyages and Travels, and Biography.
" 3. European History, Voyages and Travels, Biography, and Politics.

EXPLANATION.

THE following list contains a condensed but complete catalogue of all the new books added to the Apprentices' Library from January to December 1890. inclusive.

The arrangement of the divisions and sub-divisions is strictly alphabetical, but for convenience of instant reference an alphabetical index of subjects, including the names of individuals in biography, is prefixed, which will direct the reader to the exact page where any topic may be found.

Books are generally entered in alphabetical order in each section under what is presumed to be the author's real name (printed in SMALL CAPS), except where the assumed name is better known and more likely to be looked for by the majority of the users of a catalogue. In some cases the assumed name follows the real name (in parentheses). When the assumed name is taken as a heading the real name, when known, follows [in brackets]. When a work has no author the first word of the title (not an article or preposition) is taken as a heading. In Individual Biography (page 1) books are entered in the alphabetical order of the lives treated of, instead of by authors' names, so that all the lives of the same individual will be found in one place.

In making out orders from this catalogue the reader should give the author's name, the first part of the title, the number, and volume (if there is more than one). The number always consists of a class letter, followed by not more than four figures, and sometimes by a title-letter (in italics). All the various parts of a number must be copied, as each is equally important.

The numbering scheme is so arranged as to show the size of the book. Thus, if the last three figures are below 500 the work is a 12°; between 500 and 800 indicates an 8°; from 800 to 900 is used for 4°s; and from 900 to 999 is reserved for folios.

If a work is bound with or forms part of another, this fact must be stated on the order list.

A single dash indicates the absence of a preceding heading; a second dash shows the absence of a subsequent heading.

ABBREVIATIONS: "v." means volume or volumes; "transl." means translated or translator; "ed." means edited or edition; "edr." means editor; and "pt." means part.

A † preceding a title means that the book is for reference only, and cannot be taken from the Library.

A full list of catalogues for sale will be found on the second page of the cover.

SUPPLEMENT No. 4

TO THE

FINDING LIST

OF THE

APPRENTICES' LIBRARY

OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Containing a List of Books added from January to December, 1891

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

NEW YORK
PRESS OF J. J. LITTLE & CO.
1891

EXPLANATION.

THE following list contains a condensed but complete catalogue of all the new books added to the Apprentices' Library from January to December, 1891.

The arrangement of the divisions and sub-divisions is strictly alphabetical, but for convenience of instant reference an alphabetical index of subjects is prefixed, which will direct the reader to the exact page where any topic may be found.

Books are generally entered in alphabetical order in each section under what is presumed to be the author's real name (printed in SMALL CAPS), except where the assumed name is better known and more likely to be looked for by the majority of the users of a catalogue. In some cases the assumed name follows the real name (in parentheses). When the assumed name is taken as a heading the real name, when known, follows [in brackets]. When a work has no author the first word of the title (not an article nor a preposition) is taken as a heading. In Individual Biography (page 1) books are entered in the alphabetical order of the lives treated of, instead of by authors' names, so that all the lives of the same individual will be found in one place.

In making out orders from this catalogue the reader should give the author's name, the first part of the title, the number, and volume wanted (if there is more than one). The number always consists of a class letter, followed by not more than four figures, and sometimes by a title-letter (in italics). All the various parts of a number must be copied, as each is equally important.

The numbering scheme is so arranged as to indicate the size of the book. Thus, if the last three figures are below 500 the work is a 12°; between 500 and 800 indicates an 8°; from 800 to 900 is used for 4°s; and 900 to 999 is reserved for folios.

If a work is bound with or forms part of another, this fact must be stated on the order list.

A single dash indicates the absence of a preceding heading; a second dash shows the absence of a subsequent heading.

ABBREVIATIONS: "v." means volume or volumes; "transl." means translated or translator; "ed." means edition or edited; "edr." means editor; "Rev." means revised; and "pt." means part.

A † preceding a title means that the book is for reference only, and cannot be taken from the Library.

A full list of catalogues for sale will be found on the back of the cover.

SUPPLEMENT No. 5

TO THE

FINDING LIST

OF THE

Free Library of the General Society

OF MECHANICS AND TRADESMEN OF

THE CITY OF NEW YORK

LIBRARY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK
PRESS OF J. J. LITTLE & CO.
1893

EXPLANATION.

THE following list contains a condensed but complete catalogue of all the new books added to the Free Library of the General Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen of the City of New York from January to December, 1892.

The arrangement of the divisions and sub-divisions is strictly alphabetical, but for convenience of instant reference an alphabetical index of subjects is prefixed, which will direct the reader to the exact page where any topic may be found.

Books are generally entered in alphabetical order in each section under what is presumed to be the author's real name (printed in SMALL CAPS.), except where the assumed name is better known and more likely to be looked for by the majority of the users of a catalogue. In some cases the assumed name follows the real name (in parentheses). When the assumed name is taken as a heading the real name, when known, follows [in brackets]. When a work has no author the first word of the title (not an article nor a preposition) is taken as a heading. In Individual Biography (page 1) books are entered in the alphabetical order of the lives treated of, instead of by authors' names, so that all the lives of the same individual will be found in one place.

In making out orders from this catalogue the reader should give the author's name, the first part of the title, the number, and volume wanted (if there is more than one). The number always consists of a class letter, followed by not more than four figures, and sometimes by a title-letter (in italics). All the various parts of a number must be copied, as each is equally important.

The numbering scheme is so arranged as to indicate the size of the book. Thus, if the last three figures are below 500 the work is a 12°; between 500 and 800 indicates an 8°; from 800 to 900 is used for 4°s; and 900 to 999 is reserved for folios.

If a work is bound with or forms part of another, this fact must be stated on the order list.

A single dash indicates the absence of a preceding heading; a second dash shows the absence of a subsequent heading.

ABBREVIATIONS: "v." means volume or volumes; "transl." means translated or translator; "ed." means edition or edited; "edr." means editor; "Rev." means revised; and "pt." means part.

A † preceding a title means that the book is for reference only, and cannot be taken from the Library.

A ‡ preceding a title means that the book is in the J. Morgan Slade Library collection of architectural works. A complete list of this library, including a list of all the books on architecture and building in the circulating as well as the reference department, has been published, and can be obtained, for 10 cents a copy.

SUPPLEMENT No. 6

TO THE

FINDING LIST

OF THE

Free Library of the General Society

OF MECHANICS AND TRADESMEN OF

THE CITY OF NEW YORK

NEW YORK
PRESS OF J. J. LITTLE & CO.
1894

EXPLANATION.

THE following list contains a condensed but complete catalogue of all the new books added to the Free Library of the General Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen of the City of New York from January to December, 1893.

The arrangement of the divisions and sub-divisions is strictly alphabetical, but for convenience of instant reference an alphabetical index of subjects is prefixed, which will direct the reader to the exact page where any topic may be found.

Books are generally entered in alphabetical order in each section under what is presumed to be the author's real name (printed in SMALL CAPS.), except where the assumed name is better known and more likely to be looked for by the majority of the users of a catalogue. In some cases the assumed name follows the real name (in parentheses). When the assumed name is taken as a heading the real name, when known, follows [in brackets]. When a work has no author the first word of the title (not an article nor a preposition) is taken as a heading. In Individual Biography (page 1) books are entered in the alphabetical order of the lives treated of, instead of by authors' names, so that all the lives of the same individual will be found in one place.

In making out orders from this catalogue the reader should give the author's name, the first part of the title, the number, and the volume wanted (if there is more than one). The number always consists of a class letter, followed by not more than four figures, and sometimes by a title-letter (in italics). All the various parts of a number must be copied, as each part is equally important.

The numbering scheme is so arranged as to indicate the size of the book. Thus, if the last three figures are below 500 the work is a 12°; between 500 and 800 indicates an 8°; from 800 to 900 is used for 4°s; and 900 to 999 is reserved for folios.

If a work is bound with or forms part of another, this fact must be stated on the order list.

A single dash indicates the absence of a preceding heading; a second dash shows the absence of a subsequent heading.

ABBREVIATIONS: "v." means volume or volumes; "transl." means translated or translator; "ed." means edition or edited; "edr." means editor; "Rev." means revised; and "pt." means part.

A † preceding a title means that the book is for reference only, and cannot be taken from the library.

A ‡ preceding a title means that the book is in the J. Morgan Slade [Reference] Library of architectural works. A complete list of this library, including a list of all the books on architecture and building in the circulating as well as in the reference department, has been published, and can be obtained for 10 cents a copy.

SUPPLEMENT No. 7

TO THE

FINDING LIST

OF THE

Free Library of the General Society

OF MECHANICS AND TRADESMEN OF

THE CITY OF NEW YORK

BOOKS ADDED FROM JANUARY TO DECEMBER, 1894

NEW YORK
PRESS OF J. J. LITTLE & CO.
1895

EXPLANATION.

THE following list contains a condensed but complete catalogue of all the new books added to the Free Library of the General Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen of the City of New York from January to December, 1894.

The arrangement of the divisions and sub-divisions is strictly alphabetical, but for convenience of instant reference an alphabetical index of subjects is prefixed, which will direct the reader to the exact page where any topic may be found.

Books are generally entered in alphabetical order in each section under what is presumed to be the author's real name (printed in SMALL CAPS.), except where the assumed name is better known and more likely to be looked for by the majority of the users of a catalogue. In some cases the assumed name follows the real name (in parentheses). When the assumed name is taken as a heading the real name, when known, follows [in brackets]. When a work has no author the first word of the title (not an article nor a preposition) is taken as a heading. In Individual Biography (page 1) books are entered in the alphabetical order of the lives treated of, instead of by authors' names, so that all the lives of the same individual will be found in one place.

In making out orders from this catalogue the reader should give the author's name, the first part of the title, the number, and the volume wanted (if there is more than one). The number always consists of a class letter, followed by not more than four figures, and sometimes by a title-letter (in italics). All the various parts of a number must be copied, as each part is equally important.

The numbering scheme is so arranged as to indicate the size of the book. Thus, if the last three figures are below 500 the work is a 12°; between 500 and 800 indicates an 8°; from 800 to 900 is used for 4°s; and 900 to 999 is reserved for folios.

If a work is bound with or forms part of another, this fact must be stated on the order list.

A single dash indicates the absence of a preceding heading; a second dash shows the absence of a subsequent heading.

ABBREVIATIONS: "v." means volume or volumes; "transl." means translated or translator; "ed." means edition or edited; "edr." means editor; "Rev." means revised; and "pt." means part.

A † preceding a title means that the book is for reference only, and cannot be taken from the library.

A ‡ preceding a title means that the book is in the J. Morgan Slade [Reference] Library of architectural works. A complete list of this library, including a list of all the books on architecture and building in the circulating as well as in the reference department, has been published, and can be obtained for 10 cents a copy.

SUPPLEMENT No. 8

TO THE

FINDING LIST

OF THE

Free Library of the General Society

OF MECHANICS AND TRADESMEN OF

THE CITY OF NEW YORK

BOOKS ADDED FROM JANUARY TO DECEMBER, 1895

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

NEW YORK
PRESS OF J. J. LITTLE & CO.
1896

EXPLANATION.

THE following list contains a condensed but complete catalogue of all the new books added to the Free Library of the General Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen of the City of New York from January to December, 1895.

The arrangement of the divisions and sub-divisions is strictly alphabetical, but for convenience of instant reference an alphabetical index of subjects is prefixed, which will direct the reader to the exact page where any topic may be found.

Books are generally entered in alphabetical order in each section under what is presumed to be the author's real name (printed in SMALL CAPS.), except where the assumed name is better known and more likely to be looked for by the majority of the users of a catalogue. In some cases the assumed name follows the real name (in parentheses). When the assumed name is taken as a heading the real name, when known, follows [in brackets]. When a work has no author the first word of the title (not an article nor a preposition) is taken as a heading. In Individual Biography (page 1) books are entered in the alphabetical order of the lives treated of, instead of by authors' names, so that all the lives of the same individual will be found in one place.

In making out orders from this catalogue the reader should give the author's name, the first part of the title, the number, and the volume wanted (if there is more than one). The number always consists of a class letter, followed by not more than four figures, and sometimes by a title-letter (in italics). All the various parts of a number must be copied, as each part is equally important.

The numbering scheme is so arranged as to indicate the size of the book. Thus, if the last three figures are below 500 the work is a 12°; between 500 and 800 indicates an 8°; from 800 to 900 is used for 4°s; and 900 to 999 is reserved for folios.

If a work is bound with or forms part of another, this fact must be stated on the order list.

A single dash indicates the absence of a preceding heading; a second dash shows the absence of a subsequent heading.

ABBREVIATIONS: "v." means volume or volumes; "transl." means translated or translator; "ed." means edition or edited; "edr." means editor; "N. S." means new series; "O. S." means old series; "Rev." means revised; and "pt." means part.

A † preceding a title means that the book is for reference only, and cannot be taken from the library.

A ‡ preceding a title means that the book is in the J. Morgan Slade [Reference] Library of architectural works. A complete list of this library, including a list of all the books on architecture and building in the circulating as well as in the reference department, has been published, and can be obtained for 10 cents a copy.

SUPPLEMENT No. 9

TO THE

FINDING LIST

OF THE

Free Library of the General Society

OF MECHANICS AND TRADESMEN OF

THE CITY OF NEW YORK

BOOKS ADDED FROM JANUARY TO DECEMBER, 1896

NEW YORK
PRESS OF J. J. LITTLE & CO.
1897

EXPLANATION.

THE following list contains a condensed but complete catalogue of all the new books added to the Free Library of the General Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen of the City of New York from January to December, 1896.

The arrangement of the divisions and sub-divisions is strictly alphabetical, but for convenience of instant reference an alphabetical index of subjects is prefixed, which will direct the reader to the exact page where any topic may be found.

Books are generally entered in alphabetical order in each section under what is presumed to be the author's real name (printed in SMALL CAPS.), except where the assumed name is better known and more likely to be looked for by the majority of the users of a catalogue. In some cases the assumed name follows the real name (in parentheses). When the assumed name is taken as a heading the real name, when known, follows [in brackets]. When a work has no author the first word of the title (not an article nor a preposition) is taken as a heading. In Individual Biography (page 1) books are entered in the alphabetical order of the lives treated of, instead of by authors' names, so that all the lives of the same individual will be found in one place.

In making out orders from this catalogue the reader should give the author's name, the first part of the title, the number, and the volume wanted (if there is more than one). The number always consists of a class letter, followed by not more than four figures, and sometimes by a title-letter (in italics). All the various parts of a number must be copied, as each part is equally important.

The numbering scheme is so arranged as to indicate the size of the book. Thus, if the last three figures are below 500 the work is a 12°; between 500 and 800 indicates an 8°; from 800 to 900 is used for 4°s; and 900 to 999 is reserved for folios.

If a work is bound with or forms part of another, this fact must be stated on the order list.

A single dash indicates the absence of a preceding heading; a second dash shows the absence of a subsequent heading.

ABBREVIATIONS: "v." means volume or volumes; "transl." means translated or translator; "ed." means edition or edited; "edr." means editor; "N. S." means new series; "O. S." means old series; "Rev." means revised; and "pt." means part.

A † preceding a title means that the book is for reference only, and cannot be taken from the library.

A ‡ preceding a title means that the book is in the J. Morgan Slade [Reference] Library of architectural works. A complete list of this library, including a list of all the books on architecture and building in the circulating as well as in the reference department, has been published, and can be obtained for 10 cents a copy.

SUPPLEMENT No. 10

TO THE

FINDING LIST

OF THE

Free Library of the General Society

OF MECHANICS AND TRADESMEN OF

THE CITY OF NEW YORK

BOOKS ADDED FROM JANUARY TO DECEMBER, 1897

NEW YORK
PRESS OF J. J. LITTLE & CO.
1898

EXPLANATION.

THE following list contains a condensed but complete catalogue of all the new books added to the Free Library of the General Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen of the City of New York from January to December, 1897.

The arrangement of the divisions and sub-divisions is strictly alphabetical, but for convenience of instant reference an alphabetical index of subjects is prefixed, which will direct the reader to the exact page where any topic may be found.

Books are generally entered in alphabetical order in each section under what is presumed to be the author's real name (printed in SMALL CAPS.), except where the assumed name is better known and more likely to be looked for by the majority of the users of a catalogue. In some cases the assumed name follows the real name (in parentheses). When the assumed name is taken as a heading the real name, when known, follows [in brackets]. When a work has no author the first word of the title (not an article nor a preposition) is taken as a heading. In Individual Biography (page 1) books are entered in the alphabetical order of the lives treated of, instead of by authors' names, so that all the lives of the same individual will be found in one place.

In making out orders from this catalogue the reader should give the author's name, the first part of the title, the number, and the volume wanted (if there is more than one). The number always consists of a class letter, followed by not more than four figures, and sometimes by a title-letter (in italics). All the various parts of a number must be copied, as each part is equally important.

The numbering scheme is so arranged as to indicate the size of the book. Thus, if the last three figures are below 500 the work is a 12°; between 500 and 800 indicates an 8°; from 800 to 900 is used for 4°s; and 900 to 999 is reserved for folios.

If a work is bound with or forms part of another, this fact must be stated on the order list.

A single dash indicates the absence of a preceding heading; a second dash shows the absence of a subsequent heading.

ABBREVIATIONS: "v." means volume or volumes; "transl." means translated or translator; "ed." means edition or edited; "edr." means editor; "N. S." means new series; "O. S." means old series; "Rev." means revised; and "pt." means part.

A † preceding a title means that the book is for reference only, and cannot be taken from the library.

A ‡ preceding a title means that the book is in the J. Morgan Slade [Reference] Library of architectural works. A complete list of this library, including a list of all the books on architecture and building in the circulating as well as in the reference department, has been published, and can be obtained for 10 cents a copy.

SUPPLEMENT No. 11

TO THE

FINDING LIST

OF THE

Free Library of the General Society

OF MECHANICS AND TRADESMEN OF

THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Containing a List of Books added from January to December, 1898

NEW YORK
PRESS OF J. J. LITTLE & CO.

EXPLANATION.

THE following list contains a condensed but complete catalogue of all the new books added to the Free Library of the General Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen of the City of New York from January to December, 1898, inclusive.

The arrangement of the divisions and sub-divisions is strictly alphabetical, but for convenience of instant reference an alphabetical index of subjects is prefixed, which will direct the reader to the exact page where any topic may be found.

Books are generally entered in alphabetical order in each section under what is presumed to be the author's real name (printed in SMALL CAPS.), except where the assumed name is better known and more likely to be looked for by the majority of the users of a catalogue. In some cases the assumed name follows the real name (in parentheses). When the assumed name is taken as a heading the real name, when known, follows [in brackets]. When a work has no author the first word of the title (not an article or preposition) is taken as a heading. In Individual Biography (page 1) books are entered in the alphabetical order of the lives treated of, instead of by authors' names, so that all the lives of the same individual will be found in one place.

In making out orders from this catalogue the reader should give the author's name, the first part of the title, the number, and volume (if there is more than one). The number always consists of a class letter, followed by not more than four figures, and sometimes by a title-letter (in italics). All the various parts of a number must be copied, as each is equally important.

The numbering scheme is so arranged as to show the size of the book. Thus, if the last three figures are below 500 the work is a 12°; between 501 and 800 indicates an 8°; from 801 to 900 is used for 4°s; and from 901 to 999 is reserved for folios.

If a work is bound with or forms part of another, this fact must be stated on the order list.

A single dash indicates the absence of a preceding heading; a second dash shows the absence of a subsequent heading.

ABBREVIATIONS: "v." means volume or volumes; "transl." means translated or translator; "ed." means edited or edition; "edr." means editor; "N. S." means new series; "O. S." means old series; "Rev." means revised; and "pt." means part.

A † preceding a title means that the book is for reference only, and cannot be taken from the library.

A ‡ preceding a title means that the book is in the J. Morgan Slade [Reference] Library of architectural works. A complete list of this library, including a list of all the books on architecture and allied topics in the circulating as well as in the reference department, has been published, and can be obtained for 10 cents a copy.

SUPPLEMENT No. 12

TO THE

FINDING LIST

OF THE

Free Library of the General Society

OF MECHANICS AND TRADESMEN OF

THE CITY OF NEW YORK

BOOKS ADDED FROM JANUARY TO DECEMBER, 1899

NEW YORK
PRESS OF J. J. LITTLE & CO.
1900

EXPLANATION.

THE following list contains a condensed but complete catalogue of all the new books added to the Free Library of the General Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen of the City of New York from January to December, 1899.

The arrangement of the divisions and sub-divisions is strictly alphabetical, but for convenience of instant reference an alphabetical index of subjects is prefixed, which will direct the reader to the exact page where any topic may be found.

Books are generally entered in alphabetical order in each section under what is presumed to be the author's real name (printed in SMALL CAPS.), except where the assumed name is better known and more likely to be looked for by the majority of the users of a catalogue. In some cases the assumed name follows the real name (in parenthesis). When the assumed name is taken as a heading the real name, when known, follows [in brackets]. When a work has no author the first word of the title (not an article nor a preposition) is taken as a heading. In Individual Biography (page 1) books are entered in the alphabetical order of the lives treated of, instead of by authors' names, so that all the lives of the same individual will be found in one place.

In making out orders from this catalogue the reader should give the author's name, the first part of the title, the number, and the volume wanted (if there is more than one). The number always consists of a class letter, followed by not more than four figures, and sometimes by a title-letter (in italics). All the various parts of a number must be copied, as each part is equally important.

The numbering scheme is so arranged as to indicate the size of the book. Thus, if the last three figures are below 500 the work is a 12°; between 500 and 800 indicates an 8°; from 800 to 900 is used for 4°s; and 900 to 999 is reserved for folios.

If a work is bound with or forms part of another, this fact must be stated on the order list.

A single dash indicates the absence of a preceding heading; a second dash shows the absence of a subsequent heading.

ABBREVIATIONS: "v." means volume or volumes; "transl." means translated or translator; "ed." means edition or edited; "edr." means editor; "N. S." means new series; "O. S." means old series; "Rev." means revised; and "pt." means part.

A † preceding a title means that the book is for reference only, and cannot be taken from the library.

A ‡ preceding a title means that the book is in the J. Morgan Slade [Reference] Library of architectural works. A complete list of this library, including a list of all the books on architecture and building in the circulating as well as in the reference department, has been published, and can be obtained for 10 cents a copy.
